

Always Right

Mat Kerekes

Tell me something that I don't know
And I will carry your baggage and go
I'm not lost, I'm just taking the longer way back home

I know it's never good to be always right
That'll be a dull ride alone
We drive with lights off at night
Leave the windows open to the snow

My mind is made up and it's two faced
You'll have to let me sleep on it
If you stand single file, then the road is paved
You just head straight the whole way

I know it's not heroic, and it has never been
To put on a brave face and roll
If I need to be told twice, that's a disappointment
But that's just the way it goes

And sometimes all that I really want is to be loved
But I'd never admit that to us
Moving my mouth, saying nothing, the jokes aren't landing much
Have I lost my charm?

I stand behind your shadow sometimes
And still bloom a thousand pedals
Well, I love you so and that's by design
Collecting tears like medals
