

In Every Inch, in Every Mile

Mat Kerekes

I couldn't help myself
Playing the same role
I bet you know where I've been
I've been up a few nights in a row
Playing the same role
I bet you know
I know you know

My sweet escape, you've been good to me
I'll keep you here and I won't feel a thing
My baby is crying and I am happy
A touch from another to put you to sleep from me

I couldn't help myself
Sick of the same role
I bet you know where I've been
I've been up on the center fold
But still, no one knows
I bet you know
I know you know

My sweet escape, you've been good to me
I'll keep you here and I won't feel a thing
My baby is crying and I am happy
A touch from another to put you to sleep from me
