

Borderline Insane

Matilda Mann

I didn't expect to feel this way yet
All my friends have hated who I've dated until you
So it's not surprising I've been searching for no one
Then out of the blue you came along

I changed my outfit one too many times
Every wisp of every hair is out of line
I'm borderline insane
Every time you say my name
Wonder if that'll ever change

I've played safe, and I've made mistakes
But you make the others feel like a waste
My brain's on a bend, I'm losing the ends
You've made me this lately

I might keep on running back to you
(I cling to you, we don't come down)
But that's just not what I'm used to

I changed my outfit one too many times
Every wisp of every hair is out of line
I'm Borderline insane
Every time you say my name
Wonder if that'll ever change

How do you say the things you say out loud?
'Cause I can't even think when you're around
I'm borderline insane
Every time you say my name
Wonder if that'll ever change
