

Hell

Matilda Mann

There's no excuse
You thought I'd loose
But don't pretend
You had a better end

Cause I know you'll never care
And I'm learning life's unfair
And the fact you tried to hide
Makes it even worse you lied

I'll set it straight
And sign my case
But you dare
Come unprepared

It's strange how much you fear
After what you did was clear
And the fact you said I'd lied
Makes me wanna fucking cry

So save me the stress
My heart can't take the rest
What more could you take
And selfishly misplace

Thought I'd never wake up
Now it's time you made up
Tell them how much time you took

So say what you will
That ship has sailed
You've gone to hell for good

I wanna forget
Everything that you said
Everything that you left

I see it still
Your mask of steel
Nobody saw
The way we went to war

But I know you're full of it
And I'm learning life's a bitch
And the fact that you still lied
Makes me hope you fucking die

So save me the stress
My heart can't take the rest
What more could you take
And selfishly misplace

Thought I'd never wake up
Now it's time you made up
Tell them how much time you took

So say what you will

That ship has sailed

So save me the stress
My heart can't take the rest
So say what you will
That ship has sailed
