

Never Sweeter

Matilda Mann

Wide-eyed whispers
Gently caress her
Saying "It's better
It's better this way"
Memories unfolded
She'll tell you meant it
But I should expect it
And people part all the time

I've been sitting here in a cold state of mind
Drinking up my tears till it all falls behind
And these feelings, I wish they weren't true
But if they were, why were they wasted on you?

Guess I never really knew the way
That my mind would fall for you, each every day
'Cause you were never sweeter
Than when you came across so bitter
To my love

I must be mad
Still want what we had
Still hold you above my own love
I'm craving the bad
Leaves my mind unattached
As the world let's me be
And I'm thrown into sea

I've been sitting here in a cold state of mind
Drinking up my tears till it all falls behind
And these feelings, I wish they weren't true
But if they were, why were they wasted on you?

Guess I never really knew the way
That my mind would fall for you, each every day
'Cause you were never sweeter
Than when you came across so bitter
To my love
