

Stranger

Matilda Mann

Does it sound funny if I say it straight?
Because, apparently, I might be late
I overthink a lot of things these days
I'll now go on to get in the way

She found you first
So, why are you here?

Forgive me for saying this out loud
There's no one else I'd rather be around
Forget that your world is crashin' down
'Cause I'm just a stranger for now

When you're with her, do you pretend it's me?
There must be something that I just can't see
I've got a pretty picture in my head
It's such a shame that you can't see it yet

She found you first
So, why are you here?

Forgive me for saying this out loud
There's no one else I'd rather be around
Forget that your world is crashin' down
'Cause I'm just a stranger for now

'Cause I'm just a stranger for now
