

Tell Me That I'm Wrong

Matilda Mann

There's no one else I'd sit outside with
In the cold at 3am
With the winter on your shoulders
And wind in both our hair

I've got a jacket you can borrow
And I'll trade it for a kiss
That's the magic of the evening
Where nobody else exists

I could love you for forever
If you tell me when to start

I'll be a fool
For worse or better
So let me in
Let it begin

Because you
You and me
Belong
Tell me that I'm wrong
You and me
Tell me that I'm wrong

I don't think that I'm alone here
I think everybody sees
We were made just for each other
It was always meant to be

I could love you for forever
If you tell me when to start

I'll be a fool
For worse or better
So let me in
Let it begin

Because you
You and me
Belong
Tell me that I'm wrong
You and me
Tell me that I'm wrong

I could love you for forever
If you tell me when to start
