

Sound Foundation

Matisyahu

Started off all alone
Corner stone of the basement
I was out in the cold
Something I was chasing
Too afraid to be bold
And I'm so lost
Silhouettes with the lights off
I might fight with my thoughts
In the dark

I look up at the sky
Stars remind I can shine
Architect of the life
The life I design
Gonna build from the ground up
I'm thinking I found a sound foundation

Just be patient
When the wind blows
And the walls start shaking
Yeah. You know that you can stop the floor from breaking
Stop the roof from caving
'Cause you know you're made of a sound foundation

Fix the crack in the ceiling
Make space for new life
Take some time now for healing
Paint the walls and it feels like
Things are starting to feel right
I realized
I go further
Lift up the curtains to let in the light

I look up at the sky
Stars remind me I can shine
Architect of my life
Of the life I design
Gonna build from the ground up
I'm thinking I found a sound foundation

Just be patient
When the wind blows
And the walls start shaking
Yeah. You know that you can stop the floor from breaking
Stop the roof from caving
'Cause you know you're made of a sound foundation

Just be patient
When the wind blows
And the walls start shaking
Yeah. You know that you can stop the floor from breaking
Stop the roof from caving
'Cause you know you're made of a sound foundation