

Beautiful Wave

MATOMA

I got used to losing all I knew was cuts and bruises then you brought me round

Tired of staying up like I'm a shipwreck on the rocks yeah I was coming down
Cause I fell in your arms, no air in my lungs

Somehow you just brought me back to life again I really really don't know how...

I see the sun rising in your face
I feel the blood running through my veins
I can't forget no, I won't replace
Because you're numbing all the pain
Can we dive a little deeper
Cause I really wanna feel ya
I see the sun rising in your face
Like I'm drowning...
Taken by a beautiful wave
Taken by a beautiful wave
Taken by a beautiful wave
Can we dive a little deeper
Cause I really wanna feel ya
I see the sun rising in your face
Like I'm drowning...
Taken by a beautiful wave

Had a million secrets wrote them down on tiny pieces then I opened fire
Shooting down the satellites and praying that the stars align, don't leave me high
Can I fall in your arms, stay here in my heart
Somehow you just brought me back to life again the first time that I called you mine

I see the sun rising in your face
I feel the blood running through my veins
I can't forget no, I won't replace
Because you're numbing all the pain
Can we dive a little deeper
Cause I really wanna feel ya
I see the sun rising in your face
Like I'm drowning...
Taken by a beautiful wave
Taken by a beautiful wave
Taken by a beautiful wave
Can we dive a little deeper
Cause I really wanna feel ya
I see the sun rising in your face
Like I'm drowning
Taken by a beautiful wave

Taken by a beautiful wave
Taken by a beautiful wave
Taken by a beautiful wave
Can we dive a little deeper
Cause I really wanna feel ya
I see the sun rising in your face
Like I'm drowning
Taken by a beautiful wave
