

Fall Again

Matraca Berg

I drink too much for me I guess
Lately here at home
Ain't nothing worse than loneliness
When you are not alone
When I can hear you breathing

I wanna fall again, lose my head
Wanna build a fire that could burn this bed
I wanna feel again, take you down
Baby, lay with you on the naked ground

We close our books, say goodnight
Careful of the dark
The covers hide the jagged edge
Pieces of our hearts

I wanna fall again, crash into you
Like a hellbent rain pushing through the blue
Beat against this house all settled in
Are you awake? Are you awake?

I'm a frozen tear, I'm a pretty please
I'm an earthbound angel tangled in the trees
I wanna fall, I wanna fall again, lose my head

Wanna build a fire that could burn this bed
Beat against this house all settled in
Are you awake? I wanna fall again
