

I've been thinking about the times we've had
And the people we meet there's too many to remember
But sometime it never lets you go
When a time and a place just takes you back

Tell me about the passion that you feel
Tell me from the heart it must be real
The way you live your life through days of old
A story's told down in Altozano
Down in Altozano

You can travel all around the world
You can see many places looking from a distance
But when you get right to the heart of it
It's the soul of the people that brings you back

Tell me about the passion that you feel
Tell me from the heart it must be real
The way you live your life through days of old
A story's told down in Altozano

We'll sing tonight, heroes recite
We'll drink to everyone insight

You can come from any walk of life
Doesn't matter who you are, you'll be welcome on the inside
You can look into the people's eyes
And you know that they're not afraid to cry

Tell me about the passion that you feel
Tell me from the heart, it must be real
The way you live your life through days of old
A story's told down in Altozano
Tell me about the passion that you feel
Tell me from the heart, it must be real
The way you live your life through days of old
A story's told down in Altozano

Down in Altozano...
