

Victim Of Love

Matt Bianco

There comes a time in any love
When there's more questions than answers
No reasons that you can command
Will your heart let you understand it

There was a time and a place for us
That our love just can't replace
Can't we see that a change has come
And we can't hold on

Forget about the life we shared without a care
You know just tears me apart
Forget about the times we had were they so bad
To go and render my heart a victim of love
Victim of love
Victim of love

It only echoes through my head
But the truth always cuts much deeper
Denying everything you said
In the hope we could keep it together

There was a time and a place for us
That our love just can't replace
Can't we see that a change has come
And we can't hold on

Forget about the life we shared without a care
You know just tears me apart
Forget about the times we had were they so bad
To go and render my heart

I lie awake in my bed at night
Dreaming of a new day
But memories that I try to fight
Always there to remind me
Love, won't you make it right

Can't we see that a change has come
And we can't hold on

Forget about the life we shared without a care
You know just tears me apart
Forget about the times we had were they so bad
To go and render my heart

Forget about the life we shared without a care
You know just tears me apart
Forget about the times we had were they so bad
To go and render my heart a victim of love
Victim of love
Victim of love
Victim of love
Victim of love...
