

New Day Coming

Matt Corby

You can hold your breath until the sky is blue
But we know the world ain't gonna change for you, for you
You can close your eyes and say it's not the truth
But we know the world ain't gonna change for you, for you, for you

I won't complicate it now
I can't deny that there's a new day coming
I don't wanna lose my heart
In denial of the things I hold
I've decided I can be myself
Cause I've been fighting for the things I know
I don't wanna be controlled
But a part of me is letting go

You can hold your breath until the sky is blue
But we know the world ain't gonna change for you, for you, for
you
You can close your eyes and say it's not the truth
But we know the world ain't gonna change for you, for you, for
you

I won't complicate it now
I can't deny that there's a new day coming
I don't wanna lose my heart
In denial of the things I hold
I've decided I can be myself
Cause I've been fighting for the things I know
I don't wanna be controlled
But a part of me is letting go
