Matt Corby

If you say so
Just put a bet on it
There's a consciousness that's weighing on me
When I am too afraid to say so
I'm just trying to stay honest
There's a consequence that comes with every action that we choose

Smiling don't make it fair
Crying don't make it better
Riding on all your fears
Ain't all regretful
Smiling don't make it fair
Crying don't make it better
Riding on all your fears
Ain't all regretful

There's no stopping us
It's easier to quit and speak your mind, make a fuss
Do you think you deserve that extent of love?
It's easier to retreat than to stay and trust

No invite
To pretend to be something
That you're so obviously not with every fabric of your being
Your insight
You could take a lead from it
It's exactly as it seems, I have no idea what I'm saying

There's no stopping us
It's easier to quit and speak your mind, make a fuss
Do you think you deserve that extent of love?
It's easier to retreat than to stay and trust

It's hard
It's hard, it's hard, it's hard
When we repeat the mistakes from our past
From our past
Reruns
Of all the things you wish you'd never done

There's no stopping us
It's easier to quit and speak your mind, make a fuss
Do you think you deserve that extent of love?
It's easier to retreat than to stay and trust

Ah, yeah, yeah, yeah
Oh-oh, yeah, yeah, yeah
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
