

Sooth Lady Wine

Matt Corby

You sold me out to the man (to the man, to the man)
With the nuclear plan in his hands
But he don't understand
The free world, and its demands

Oh we're lost
Get it together
Get it to the seventh state
With you on tomorrows ideas
I am more than terrified to care
So no where's out of bounds here or there

You sold me out to the man (to the man, to the man)
With the nuclear plan in his hands
But he don't understand
The free world, and it's demands

If you feel alright
Let yourself dance
Don't sit out tonight
If you feel the right
Get off your phone
Take it in tonight
If you see the light
Don't turn away
It's reality
With no fear in sight
We can begin to feel the happiness

Sooth lady wine
Don't sigh
Not in the way that I indulge in life
One new battle two new battle
Try for something new
I wanted so long to write it down
For no one to decode

If you feel alright
Let yourself dance
Don't sit out tonight
If you feel the right
Get off your phone
Take it in tonight
If you see the light
Don't turn away
It's reality
With no fear in sight
We can begin to feel the happiness
