

When The Avalanche Comes

Matt Costa

Who is it that walks all alone
Among the ancient trail of thrones
When the avalanche comes
I'm gonna be your friend all the way down

You might have tried to leave your past
Just remember it's all part of the path
When your bones are earthquakes
I'm gonna be the one to calm you down

You can make it but don't ask why
Some live and some fall and some die
I can tell you the answer
The day the avalanche comes
When the avalanche comes
You gotta be the one to dig it out

Who is it that takes all the blame
Is it always someone the same
When you're walking away

You heard it blowing through the trees
Echoing when you turned to see
The avalanche come
I was the one the one who let you down

You can make it but don't ask why
Some live and some fall and some die
I can tell you the answer
The day the avalanche comes
When the avalanche comes
You gotta be the one to dig it out

When the avalanche comes
When the avalanche comes
