It Can Only Get Better

You let the sun refuse to shine It won't be long before the days are brighter If every step's an uphill climb Carry on until they feel much lighter For all the clouds up in the sky For all the teardrops in the eyes

It can only get better Be still my heart It can only get better We've come this far It can only get better I know it hurts For what it's worth It can only get better

If they should ever come our way Dry the tears and look somewhere above them It's easier to say than to do But make believe that you no longer love them When your back's against the ropes When you miss someone the most

It can only get better Be still my heart It can only get better We've come this far It can only get better I know it hurts For what it's worth It can only get better

I know it hurts For what it's worth It can only get better

I know it hurts For what it's worth It can only get better
