

All That's Left Is You

Matt Hires

Where the stars end and the city starts
I fell in love with your broken heart
I try to keep it together, but still fall apart

What else can I do?
I'm gonna wash it all away, till' all that's left is you

Walk until I'm falling off my feet
Wishing I could just fall asleep Holding onto so many things that I can't keep

Somebody tell me the truth
I'm gonna wash it all away, till' all that's left is you

From the sunshine state, to the Golden Gate I've never seen another one like you, and I hope I never have t o
From this hotel bar, to Hollywood Boulevard
Out of all the dreams that can come true, maybe one of them cou ld be you, could be you

You wrote love letters in magic ink
Disappearing on everything
If I held onto the words you said, would I still sink?

That's all I wanna do
I'm gonna wash it all away, till' all that's left is you

From the sunshine state, to the Golden Gate
I've never seen another one like you, and I hope I never have t
o
From this hotel bar, to Hollywood Boulevard
Out of all the dreams that can come true, maybe one of them cou ld be you, could be you

From the sunshine state, to the Golden Gate
I've never seen another one like you, and I hope I never have t
o
From this hotel bar, to Hollywood Boulevard
I've never seen another one like you, and I hope I never have t
o

From the sunshine state, to the Golden Gate
Out of all the dreams that can come true, maybe one of them cou ld be you, could be you