

Red Eye

Matt Hires

Red eye to JFK
But I'm still wide awake
Tray table's rattling
A thunder clap, a movie plays
You're in the aisle seat
I feel you right next to me
Coke cans and coffee cups
Are falling while a woman prays
When I first noticed you
I should've asked you to Get off this plane with me
And take a chance and run away
So where do we begin
To fill a lifetime
Into just one hello

Hold my hand and darling don't let go

We're spinning round
In a hurricane
Breathe in, breathe out
Cause we ain't got time to waste
Give me your hand
And a little faith
Though I don't think you even know my, know my name

We're falling through the blue
And I just fell for you
Eye's wide, you're looking at me
Like someone you always knew
Sweat dripping off your skin
I'll love you till the end
Of all that we know

Hold my hand and darling don't let go

We're spinning round
In a hurricane
Breathe in, breathe out
Cause we ain't got time to waste
Give me your hand
And a little faith
Though I don't think you even know my, know my name

Everything will grow-oh-oh
Right from the wreckage of what we used to know
So hold my hand and darling don't let go

Voice over the PA
Says that we'll be okay
We hit some bumpy air
The beverage service is delayed
Looks like we'll be just fine
But your hand's still holding mine

We're spinning round

Breathe in, breathe out
Give me your hand
And a little faith

We're spinning round
In a hurricane
Give me your hand
And a little faith
