

We Were The Same

Matt Maeson

The edge is gettin' closer, it's a long spiral down
It's so fun to fly 'til you hit the ground
I think I'm getting too close
I think I'm getting too close
It's hard to get to heaven with my head in my hands
I'm just so bad at things I don't understand
As if I'm not even close
I think I'm further than most

But last night you came to my house with drunk eyes
We didn't think too much this time
We danced like we were the same
Oh, and last night you pulled the words out of my mouth
Told me to talk less and calm down
We danced like we were the same

It feels like there's a bruise that's stuck inside of my head
You never really know the track that I tread
I think I'm stable enough
I think I'm stable enough
All the drinkin' and the druggin' and the black and the red
The achy skin and all the sweat in my bed
I think I'm losin' too much
But there's just never enough

But last night you came to my house with drunk eyes
We didn't think too much this time
We danced like we were the same
Oh, and last night you pulled the words out of my mouth
Told me to talk less and calm down
We danced like we were the same

Twistin' in circles again
No need to say anything
'Cause last night we let go of everything

We didn't think too much this time
We danced like we were the same
Oh, and last night you pulled the words out of my mouth
Told me to talk less and calm down
We danced like we were the same

Twistin' in circles again
No need to say anything
'Cause last night we let go of everything
Hounding our hearts 'til they mend
There is no need to pretend
'Cause last night we let go of everything
Let go of everything
Let go of everything
Let go of everything
