

I Wanna Feel Again

Matt Maher

My heart's a heavy stone
The silence weighs on me
The dull and distant drone
Where the music used to be

My mind's a lonesome road
It's hard to even care
If I'll get to where I'm going
When I'm not going anywhere

The tears have all but dried up
Like a desert by the river dam
Oh I just want to feel again

If you're my true north
Then tell me where I am
I must have been here once before a stranger to this land

The bells have all stopped ringing
Just the memory every now and then
Oh I just wanna feel again

So open up the floodgates
Let it all come rushing in
Oh I
I just wanna feel again
I just wanna feel again
