

The Answer Is Yes

Matt Maher

Where else can I turn
In these troubled times
When my joy is held by suffering
And sorrows last the night

The answer is yes, Lord
I'll give you my heart
The answer is yes, Lord
It's the only place to start
You've seen me through good times
You've held me through pain
You've heard all my questions
The answers the same

In the desert of my soul
Where else can I find
There's a reason to the promise
Of everlasting light

The answer is yes, Lord
I'll give you my heart
The answer is yes, Lord
It's the only place to start
You've seen me through good times
You've held me through pain
You've heard all my questions
The answers the same

It doesn't change
No it doesn't change
Oh

Lord nothing comes between us
Lord nothing comes between us
And nothing ever will

Lord nothing comes between us
Lord nothing comes between us
And nothing ever will

Lord nothing comes between us
Lord nothing comes between us
And nothing ever will

Lord nothing comes between us
Lord nothing comes between us
And nothing ever will
