

Wait

Matt Maher

I've spent too much time in the corners of my mind
Sparring with my shadow side
I'm crashing into walls that don't exist at all
I'm drowning in my cortisol
No one can live on that alone

So I will wait
I will wait
Let the Lord renew my strength
I will wait
I will wait
Let the Lord renew my strength

Fear moves at a pace that no one can sustain
Fight flight or disassociate
But I will cling to Christ
From ashes I will rise

And I will wait
I will wait
Let the Lord renew my strength
I will wait
I will wait
Let the Lord renew my strength

That weight's gonna lift
That dawn's gonna break
We'll run like the wind and not grow faint

That weight's gonna lift
That dawn's gonna break
On eagle's wings we'll fly away
Fly away

That weight's gonna lift
That dawn's gonna break
We'll run like the wind and not grow faint

That weight's gonna lift
That dawn's gonna break
On eagle's wings we'll fly away
Fly away

That weight's gonna lift
That dawn's gonna break
On eagle's wings we'll fly away
Fly away

I will wait
I will wait
And let the Lord renew my strength
I will wait
I will wait
And let the Lord renew my strength

We'll run like the wind and we will not grow faint
On eagle's wings we'll rise and fly away

I will wait
