

And We Were Lovers

Matt Monro

I saw you smiling
As if I could forget
The moment that we met
And we would wander
Content to wander
Through the golden summer
With nothing to regret
And we were happy
That moment in our lives
And through my sadness
That happiness survives
And I'll remember as the years go by
Till the day I die
That we were lovers
And I'll remember as the years go by
Till the day I die
That we were lovers
You and I, you and I
