How Soon

Matt Monro

How soon the flame of love can die
How soon goodnight becomes goodbye
You're gone now, but life goes on now
And everything seems out of tune

But time can bring a change of heart
And love can make another start
Someday you may come back to me to stay
But who can say how soon?

But time can bring a change of heart
And love can make another start
Someday you may come back to me to stay
But who can say how soon?

But who can say how soon?
