Different Beds

Matt Nathanson

Do you remember when we met
The first thing that you said
"I'm done with men
They all let me down"

We built an island in the flood
Found the highest ground we could
Spent years in love
We're done with that now

Sometimes the good can go forever
Sometimes you fight to stay together
Sometimes the things that used to save you
Don't anymore

So, let's get drunk and stay out all night.
Let's get high as the stars, as close as shadows.
One round of coffee and one last goodbye
You and I, we're gonna see the sunrise
It's just gonna be from different beds next time

We took your brothers cadillac
Drove til we ran out of gas
Then we hitchiked back
From brooklyn to queens

He said he almost called the cops
He was pissed at you for months
We just laughed until
We both couldn't breathe

So sure nobody could touch us
So sure we'd show 'em all what love was
So sure we'd always be enough
I guess we were wrong

Sometimes the things you love don't love you back
