

Something You Wanted

Matt Nathanson

You didn't even call me on the day Prince died
There was still a little part of me that thought you might Yeah, I guess you found your self-control
Yeah, you finally found your self-control
I'm tangled in the dreams, you know
I still I got a ways to go
But

I wish that I had something you wanted
I wish that I had something you wanted bad enough that you could let old habits through
Even for a night or two
I wish that I had something you wanted
Baby

I think I might have said too much
This honesty hangover feels like it'll last for months
I keep going over words I said
I keep going over words I said
They always sounded better in my head
It's poetry 'til I regret it
But

I wish that I had something you wanted
I wish that I had something you wanted bad enough that you could let old habits in
And we could let 'em out again
But I wish that I had something you wanted
Baby

Congratulations on your graduation
Congratulations on your graduation
Congratulations on your, your graduation from me

I wish that I had something you wanted
I wish that I had something you wanted bad enough that you could let old habits through
Just for a night or two
I wish that I had something you wanted
Baby
