

DESTINY

Matt OX

(Cenobite, you know)

This my destiny, I can feel it in my energy
I can't let it to get to me but they won't even let me be
They won't even let me breathe, they won't even let me think
They won't even let me sleep, they won't even let me blink

In a blink of the eye, I can see all the eyes
In a blink of the eye, in a blink of the pot
Yeah, I put that on God, put that on my pop
I up at your opps and got off the block

I gotta, I gotta go get to the green
Dollars on dollars, I'm flipping them green
The guala, the guala, I'm getting the cheese
I'm all in my dreams like a figment of the imagination
I been making new waves, the beginnings of the new creations
It's a brand new age, I can see it in our generation
We on top of the place, you can see it that we elevated

This my destiny, I can feel it in my energy
I can't let it to get to me but they won't even let me be
They won't even let me breathe, they won't even let me think
They won't even let me sleep, they won't even let me blink

They won't let it happen
They ain't get me back yet
They won't let that happen
They gon' keep on spazzing
They gon' keep on stepping
I'm working with black magic
I'm working with my passions
Can't go back to the past, I won't cross that line
Can't go back to past, I don't got no time
I see beneath that mask, I can see through your eyes
I know it all come back, and it's all intertwined

This my destiny, I can feel it in my energy
I can't let it to get to me but they won't even let me be
They won't even let me breathe, they won't even let me think
They won't even let me sleep, they won't even let me blink
