

Still I Will Sing

Matt Redman

I'll sing out Your praise in the morning light
And I'll call out Your name on the edge of night

Sometimes it's a song of joy
Sometimes a sacrifice
Still I sing, still I will

Sing in the battle, sing in the blessing
Sing through the shadows, shout with the heavens
I won't be silent, no, I won't be silent
Still I sing, still I will sing

I'll pour out Your praise from the mountains high
And I'll call out Your name, I will lift my eyes

Sometimes it's a song of joy
Sometimes a sacrifice
Still I sing, still I will
Oh still I sing, still I will

Sing in the battle, sing in the blessing
Sing through the shadows, shout with the heavens
I won't be silent, no, I won't be silent
Still I sing, still I will sing

Sing it like you mean it
Sing it and believe it
For the glory, the glory of God
Sing it with a passion
Sing it like it matters
For the glory, the glory of God
With the heavens above

Sometimes it's a song of joy
Sometimes a sacrifice
Sometimes it's an easy choice
But sometimes a battle cry, so...

Sing in the battle, sing in the blessing
Sing through the shadows, shout with the heavens
Oh I won't be silent, no, I won't be silent
Still I sing, still I will sing...

Oh still I sing, still I will sing
Oh still I sing, still I will sing
I will sing
