

Get Even

Matt Simons

I think you know what you already know
All your suspicions right on the nose
That's how it goes
It's 2 AM and he isn't home
Worried he's missing, he's kissing some girl while you're alone

We don't have to complicate it
Been there and we're better as friends
I know right now you really hate him
Well, there's nothing like a little revenge

You know an eye-for-an eye leaves the whole world blind
It might be wrong and it won't change the tears that you cried
So if you're low I can go down and get you high
I know it feels like nobody can win
But I can help you get even with him

Let's have some fun with it
Go and mess around in public and be done with it
And maybe I could call you "baby" right in front of all of his friends
You're too beautiful to let anyone shake your confidence

Your confidence

We don't have to complicate it
We can see the way that it ends
I know right now you really hate him
Well there's nothing like a little revenge (revenge, oh)

You know an eye-for-an eye leaves the whole world blind
It might be wrong and it won't change the tears that you cried
So if you're low I can go down and get you high
I know it feels like nobody can win
But I can help you get even with him

And when he finally calls
Saying "Sorry for it all"
And the world comes into view
I'll be there for you, if you want me to

You know an eye-for-an eye leaves the whole world blind
It might be wrong and it won't change the tears that you cried
So if you're low I can go down and get you high
I know it feels like nobody can win
But I can help you get even with him

Get even, get even, get even
Help you get even with him
Get even, get even, get even
Help you get even with him
