

Tonight

Matt Simons

I, from the moment that I found you
I've tried spending all my time around you
Do you remember how many days all of the ways I'd try to frame it
Do you remember all of the useless, tired excuses that I came with

I'm gonna tell you tonight
I got plans of making you mine
And I know it's just a matter of time
I'm positively out of my mind

I want to bring it to light
Everything I feel so it's clear
Yeah, hopefully what you wanted to hear
I'm laying everything on the line
Tonight I'm gonna make you mine

I've tried to imagine life without you
But I find something so unique about you
I can remember,
every time you'd smile I got a feeling
I can remember,
all the nights when we got wild and hit the ceiling

I'm gonna tell you tonight
I got plans of making you mine
And I know it's just a matter of time
I'm positively out of my mind

I want to bring it to light
Everything I feel so it's clear
Yeah, hopefully what you wanted to hear
I'm laying everything on the line
Tonight I'm gonna make you mine

We both live wild and free
Won't pressure something to be
I know it's better when the love comes naturally

Not stepping out on a whim
I'm hanging out on a limb
I know, I know

I'm gonna tell you tonight
I got plans of making you mine
And I know it's just a matter of time
I'm positively out of my mind

I want to bring it to light
Everything I feel so it's clear (so clear)
Yeah, hopefully what you wanted to hear
I'm laying everything on the line (on the line)
Tonight I'm gonna make you mine
