Too Much

Matt Simons

Oh, I never know I've had enough
Till I had too much, till I had too much
And I never know the party's over
Till the walls are closing in, the sun is up

Well, I went and done and did it again
I took it too far and the part of me I been trying to pretend isn't there
Went and overshared with all my friends
Stare at the wall and recall all I said

'Cause nobody knows if you meant it
God only knows how they felt when you said it
Do you know if you meant it?
Well, I meant to keep it to myself

Oh, I never know I've had enough
Till I had too much, till I had too much
And I never know the party's over
Till the walls are closing in, the sun is up

I trip over what I say and I get in my own way
I don't know what I turn into
Oh, I never know I've had enough till I had too much
So I had too much

Well, I'll probably go and do it again
Looking for something strange to satisfy my lizard brain
When we evolved from creepy crawlers to Charlemagne
The gods forgot to add a button to numb the pain

Do you know where we're going?
Isn't it crazy that nobody knows it?
I gotta know where we're going
And I can't keep it to myself (Say it again)

Oh, I never know I've had enough
Till I had too much, till I had too much
And I never know the party's over
Till the walls are closing in, the sun is up

I trip over what I say and I get in my own way
I don't know what I turn into
Oh, I never know I've had enough till I had too much
So I had too much

So I had too much

Oh, I never know I've had enough
Till I had too much, till I had too much
And I never know the party's over
Till the walls are closing in, the sun is up

Oh, I never know I've had enough
Till I had too much, till I had too much
And I never know the party's over
Till the walls are closing in, the sun is up

I trip over what I say and I get in my own way
I don't know what I turn into
Oh, I never know I've had enough till I had too much
So I had too much

So I had too much
So I had too much
