

Daylight Actual

Matthew Good

Everything for what's to be
Everything in the line of duty
Everything for what you love
And everything else for what you should have

It comes down to daylight
Who's got you up at midnight?
Taking apart everything that you hide
It comes down to daylight

For every part you went and left behind
The all alone it never left your mind
For everything that you love
And everything else that you should have

It comes down to daylight
Who's got you up at midnight?
Taking apart everything that you hide
It comes down to daylight
