

Better

Matthew Mayfield

Two fires, they're breathing running out of air
two hearts, they're beating feeding this affair

it's too far for a clean escape demons on my sleeve—they're not what you expected when I asked you to believe

For you, for me
make me a better man
for you, oh please
make me a better man

With your eyes on my secrets, God knows what you'll see there's so much to my story, but you're the perfect ending

I haven't found what you're looking for I haven't found what you need but don't think what you're after is more than I can be

For you, for me
make me a better man
for you, oh please
make me a better man
