

Heart In Wire

Matthew Mayfield

So lay your hand in mine
Pull me back inside
Show me how in love
Your heart ceases to fight
Tear my skin
Get it
Give everything again
And then I'll wait
Then I'll wait

'Cause I still love you
You still love me
That ain't my imagination
That ain't my imagination
I still love you
You still love me
That ain't my imagination
That ain't my imagination, dear

Show your teeth
And feast
You f*cked up masterpiece
Take me down again
Crawl inside my skin
Wrap my heart in wire
Fill it with desire
And then go then go

'Cause I still love you
You still love me
That ain't my imagination
That ain't my imagination
I still love you
You still love me
That ain't my imagination
That ain't my imagination, dear

When age sets in and wrinkles your skin
And snatches the light from your eyes
When your time has come
And all is said and done
Will the work of your hands be enough?
Be enough

'Cause I still love you
You still love me
That ain't my imagination
That ain't my imagination
I still love you
You still love me
That ain't my imagination

That ain't my imagination

I still love you

You still love me

That ain't my imagination

That ain't my imagination

(2x)

That ain't my imagination

That ain't my imagination, dear
