

Back To You

Matthew Mole

You talk, I take it
But I'll never make if you keep holding on
You're not my maker, and I'm not your taker
And this time I'm standing strong

I will not pretend
I'll give it back to you
I'll give it back to you, back to you
When I hold all my intent
To give it back to you
I'll give it back to you, back to you

I remember a time you spoke forever
You set fire to all my motivation in the end
And I won't contain it and you won't explain it
And you'll never hold me back

There's something bigger that
Will keep my heart on track

I will not pretend
I'll give it back to you
I'll give it back to you, back to you
When I hold all my intent
To give it back to you
I'll give it back to you, back to you

We try
Break another ceiling and wake another feeling inside
Wake me when I'm better, I'm fine

We try
Break another ceiling and wake another feeling inside
Wake me when I'm better, I'm fine

We try
Break another ceiling and wake another feeling inside
Wake me when I'm better, I'm fine

I will not pretend (I will not pretend)
I'll give it back to you (I'll give it back to you)
I'll give it back to you, back to you
When I hold all my intent
To give it back to you
I'll give it back to you, back to you

I'll give it back to you, oh, back to you, yeah
I'll give it back to you, oh, back to you
