Enough

Matthew Mole

Tell me what you wonder
Words have made you ponder
Everything, you think you're not enough

I see what you see
And I'm the air you're breathing
I'll be with you everywhere you go

You will always be enough
You'll always be enough
You'll always be enough

Don't you see your worth in me
You're everything that you should be
So don't be scared
I'm by your side
I've been right here
I've won this fight

I know that the war in your mind is a show
When you're more than a conqueror
Know that I'll be with you anywhere you go
Where you go

You will always be enough
You'll always be enough
You'll always be enough

You, you're all I'm thinking of
With you I'm so in love
You'll always be enough

You will always be enough
You'll always be enough
You'll always be enough

You, you're all I'm thinking of
With you I'm so in love
You'll always be enough
