

Cold

Matthew Parker

(Cold, cold, cold, cold)

I don't wanna let go now
But I have no choice 'cause it's definitely over
I should've known 'cause I know you...

Set fire to the world I know
And lie when you tell me so
My eyes have been so blind
I can see the light has left yours

So cold, you're so cold that I'm freezing
So cold, you're so...
Cold

That bitter feeling
The taste of cold steel in my back
This will be fatal
In the face of your betrayal
I thought you loved me
And you thought something of me
So maybe I should be grateful
'Cause our love was just a fable
A fable

Wish I could've seen it sooner
Wasted years when I could've had a future
I should've known 'cause I know you...

Set fire to the things I love
Leave me stranded in the dust
My eyes have been so blind
I can see the light has left yours

So cold, you're so cold that I'm freezing
So cold, you're so...
Cold

That bitter feeling
The taste of cold steel in my back
This will be fatal
In the face of your betrayal
I thought you loved me
And you thought something of me
So maybe I should be grateful
'Cause our love was just a fable
A fable
(Yeah yeah)

So cold, you're so cold that I'm freezing (freezing)
So cold, you're so...
Cold

So cold, you're so cold that I'm freezing
So cold, you're so...
Cold

(So cold, you're so cold that I'm freezing
So cold, you're so...
Cold, cold, cold)
