

wishing well

Matthew Parker

The fire that burns me alive is keeping you warm
I'll do what I swore if it cuts me right to my core

Walking up the hill (Walking up the hill)
Toward the silver moon (Toward the silver moon)
Can I save myself (Can I save myself)
By saving you? (By saving you?)

Throw my penny in a wishing well
Feeling melancholy, I've never felt
Say what you want, but you know it's true
All that I wish for is always you
Cross my heart with my fingertips
Hope to dream with you deeper than this
If I could wake to your starry eyes
I'd be so happy that I could die

I'll hold your head up from the water 'til I turn blue
It's killing me, but that's alright, I would die for you

Walking up the hill (Walking up the hill)
Toward the silver moon (Toward the silver moon)
Maybe I'll save myself (Maybe I'll save myself)
By saving you, oh, oh

Throw my penny in a wishing well
Feeling melancholy, I've never felt
Say what you want, but you know it's true
All that I wish for is always you
Cross my heart with my fingertips
Hope to dream with you deeper than this
If I could wake to your starry eyes
I'd be so happy that I could die

Throw my penny in a wishing well
Feel a bravery that I've never felt
Say what you want, but you know it's true
All that I wish for is always you
(If I only have one wish)
(If I only have one wish)
(If I only have one wish, one wish, one wish)

Throw my penny in a wishing well
Feel a happiness that I've never felt
Say what you want, but you know it's true
All that I wish for is always you
Cross my heart with my fingertips
Hope to dream with you deeper than this
If I could wake to your starry eyes
I'd be so happy that I could die

I'm trying to say that I love you
