

I'm Sorry

Matthew Perryman Jones

Thunder in the clouds
I wonder if you're sleeping
Rain is coming down
My darling, god is weeping
But it don't feel right
No, not, tonight
It'll just take time, it takes time

And I'll always love you
I'll always be tied to you
It'll all be alright
You can turn out the light
Just to know that I'm sorry

Lately, I'm feeling every wall around me
It's changing
These were not the plans I was making
And it don't feel right
Heavy is the heart that's breaking
It'll just take time, it takes time

And I'll always love you
I'll always be tied to you
I sink like a stone
After I hang up the phone
I whisper: "I'm sorry"

Someday this will all be better
Someday we'll find warmer weather
Someday
Someday light will break, clouds will fade
I know my love will never change
I know we'll go to find new way

And I'll always love you
I'll always be tied to you
I'll always love you
I'll always love you
You know that I'm sorry
