

Out Of Reach

Matthew Perryman Jones

You're always bound to fall there's nothing you can do the weight of gravity begins to pull you down again so what are you to do now? stuck between the hope and doubt you get so close to clarity makes you question everything

You're so far away
so far away from me
Is it starting to break
underneath my feet
You're so far away
Am I just out of reach?

We keep talking in circles staring out with empty eyes wanting to be known again but so afraid of letting in so do i leave it all to history? will you ever answer me ?
do you still recognize my voice or is it lost among the noise

You're so far away
so far away from me
Is it starting to break
underneath my feet
You're so far away
Am I just out of reach?

While the world unravels we're kicking at shadows and everyone around us is making up chaos oh, I cannot find you I'm walking like I'm blinded am I saying anything at all?

You're so far away
so far away from me
Is it starting to break
underneath my feet
Is it set in stone could someone tell me please?
Am I all alone?
Am I just out of reach?