

They Were Wrong

Matthew Ryan

i wish i'd known maybe i could've helped you but you were already gone to the trouble that held you come knee high you were treated like the meantime well they might've been young but excuses just become lies
were wrong
the day is never too long when it's gone it's gone they were wrong my god they're still wrong we were drinking warm beer at ninth and michigan you were making me nervous but i was still listening well he might've been a talker but he never said too much he was just a souvenir from a cold done dead love
here's the saddest song you never heard these catholic kids get what they deserve we were in the front row at the sad last goodbye you were so pissed off you were trembling inside why would you ever live to wish and wait by the front door that your daddy never answered and your momma won't any more?
they were wrong they were wrong they were wrong they're still wrong
they were wrong they were wrong they were wrong my god they're still wrong
