

Berlin Weekend

Mattiel

All the grass is greener across the Atlantic
And indoor livin' gon' get me in a panic
If it's good for my health I guess I'll do it myself
I guess I'll do it myself

Berlin Weekend, put it all in my head again
Back in town, sit down, and all my plants are dead again
Yeah it's just too much fun to forget where you're from
To forget where you're from

What you go and do that for?
I thought you'd ask for more
What you go and do that for?
I thought you'd ask for more
I thought you'd ask for more

Never had a solid plan, just a big pool of quicksand
Of all the things they're talkin' that I can and I can't
If it's good for your health yeah you'll just do it yourself
Oh, yeah you'll just do it yourself

Truck stop, waste bin, got a good group of good men
And granola bars, and fried eggs, and coffee, and vitamins
Oh, just gotta keep scorin' 'til I can't anymore
Until I can't anymore

What you go and do that for?
I thought you'd ask for more
What you go and do that for?
I thought you'd ask for more

Berlin Weekend, put it all in my head again
Back in town, sit down, and all my plants are dead again
Yeah it's just too much fun to forget where you're from
To forget where you're from

And when your time comes to get down and invest
Get the same house and the same yard and a white picket fence
What now and what then, when you got a means to an end
What are you gonna do then?

What you go and do that for?
I thought you'd ask for more
What you go and do that for?
I thought you'd ask for more
I thought you'd ask for more
I thought you'd ask for more
