

Go the Distance

Matty Mullins

Who am I?
That a king would set his eyes on a cross, for me
Who am I?
Full of sin, full of pride and brokenness
That You would leave heaven and glory
To write me back into Your story
(oh the distance Your love will go)

Oh the distance
Your love will go
Your love will go
Your love will go
No mountain high, no valley low
Where Your love won't go
Yes, Your love will go the distance
Oh the distance

Who are You
Author of the stars that fill the sky
And still You care
About me
And the tears that fill my eyes
Lord You hear my every cry, and You come every time

Oh the distance
Your love will go
Your love will go
Your love will go
No mountain high, no valley low
Where Your love won't go
Yes, Your love will go the distance
Oh the distance

You left heaven and glory
To write me back into Your story (back in Your story)
You left heaven and glory
To write me back into Your story, Lord
You left heaven and glory
You wrote me back into Your story

Oh the distance
Your love will go
Your love will go
Your love will go
No mountain high, no valley low
Where Your love won't go
Yes, Your love will go the distance
Oh the distance
Oh the distance
Your love will go
Your love will go
Your love will go
No mountain high, no valley low
Where Your love won't go
Yes, Your love will go the distance
Oh the distance
Oh the distance

Go the distance
