

Something Special

Maverick Sabre

And I, I've got something hard to say
I won't be back again
And I'm sorry if you thought this was something else
And I thought I was clear enough that I never wanted love
But you never wanted much

I didn't want all of your heart
Just the comfort that came with your arms
Now that I'm stuck in your bed
Tryna work things out
But you crumble in front of me
So don't keep me stuck in your head
I'm not the one to invest into
I thought you knew this wasn't love
Don't make that think you're not special
Special, think you're not special
Special, think you're not special
Special, think you're not special

Said that we should only fucking sleep around every now and the n
But I could still feel you falling in
And now is the last time that I kiss the back of your neck
In the morning I'll be gone again
And I'm sorry could never pretend

I didn't want all of your heart
Just the comfort that came with your arms
And now that I'm stuck in your bed
Tryna find a way out
But you crumble in front of me
So don't keep me stuck in your head
I'm not the one to invest into
Thought you knew this wasn't love
But don't make that think you're not special
Special, think you're not special
Special, think you're not special
Special, think you're not special
Special, think you're not special
Special, think you're not special
Special, think you're not special
Special, think you're not special
Special
