

Labor

MAVI

You know, love it's an incredible thing
And we don't know love like we should
We always talking 'bout "I have unconditional love"
Unconditional love is, we don't even know it
Because if a person stops stimulating us, we stop loving them
You're not interesting in talk to anymore
Goodbye!
But the real love, that love that sometimes is difficult
Ha, difficult to have, that's that love
(And that's the confidence builder)

Emotional labor just isn't something to pay for
I'm keeping you waiting
I just needed some space
I'm prolonging a break just to hear my own thoughts for a change
Just to hear that you here for me painful
Just adhere to my history
Mirror my sympathy
Mirror my memory
Break me
Stay for the xan
Leave for the liquor I did
Briefly I'm changing my shit
Say that I'm leeching I needed to hear it
My mama know that I'm lazy
She know I ain't calling
Her staying is beating her kid
My baby would give me her rib
I struggle to give her an inch
And I'm muttering this with my Face to the floor
Facing this brake and I'm cold
Built up appearances hasty I'm breaking my mold
Straight from the south so I brace for the snow
Shoot for my brother you say what you want
You could use all my drama I pray that you won't
And I'm shooing off thoughts I won't play with you bro Shedding my shell its way safer to molt and I'm Anxious for mail but impatient with home
Making these songs
Just to keep my brain thinking from facing the chrome
