One More Change

Mavis Staples

Been holding on too long to let go
Been running too hard to slow down
Believing too deep to not have faith
But I've got just one more change to make

I've got just one more
Just one more
One more change to make
I've got just one more
Just one more
I've got one more step to take
I've got one more change to make

I've worried so long I'm not worried now
This heavy load helped me set it down
Some things take a lifetime, some things can't wait
Now I've got one more, one more change to make

I've got one more (One more)
I've got one more (One more)
I've got one more, one more change to make
I've got one more (One more)
Oh just one more (One more)
I've got one more step to take
I've got one more change to make

One more chain to break
One more day to wake
One more step to take
I've got one more change to make
One more chain to break
One more day to wake
One more step to take
I've got one more (One more)
I've got one more (One more)

I've got one more (One more)
I've got one more (One more)
I've got one more, one more change to make

I've got one more
One more
One more change to make (One more change to make)
I've got one more change, one more change
One more change, one more change
One more change
