

Be Who You Want To Be

Max Frost

"I need a doctor," said the boy to the man to mend my soul and ease my bones and give my life a plan "well hold on son," said the man with the grin just be a man and have no plan and let your life begin play what you wanna play, say what you wanna say and be who you wanna be, you gotta try to find your own way

play what you wanna play, say what you wanna say
be who you wanna be, everything is right when you do your thang everybody get some time to live but it a long, so break out strong and find something to give well close your eyes and listen to the sun and do not know what you've been told and just do what you want

play what you wanna play, say what you wanna say and be who you wanna be, gotta try to find your own way
play what you wanna play, say what you wanna say
be who you wanna be, everything is right when you do your thang

find your fire, follow yourself your right there, never too far tear your fences down to keep to much in from ever coming out

play what you wanna play, say what you wanna say be who you wanna be, gotta try to find your own way
play what you wanna play, say what you wanna say
be who you wanna be, everything is right when you do your thang