

Drown

Max & Harvey

I'm sinking down
My head above the surface calling out
And my head goes under no one hears me now
And nobody's around to hear the sound
I might just drown

And I don't know even know where to start
It's filling me up as I'm falling apart
And I'm tired of holding my breath
It's never enough but I'm doing my best

Hey now, what you gonna say now?
You're coming through but you always got me let down
What can I say when you're in my brain now?
Can you complain when you got me in a meltdown?
And I swear I feel like drowning
Yeah, I swear I feel so down
Hey now, just another let down
Please just let me drown

Can't pull me out
I don't need anybody to save me from myself
If you're looking for someone to help, go find someone else
'Cause you've already done enough damage
Got me waiting around in the wreckage
'Cause these waves are breaking the tension, yeah

And I don't even know where to start
It's filling me up as I'm falling apart
And I'm tired of holding my breath
It's never enough but I'm doing my best

Hey now, what you gonna say now?
You're coming through but you always got me let down
What can I say when you're in my brain now?
Can you complain when you got me in a meltdown?
And I swear I feel like drowning
Yeah, I swear I feel so down
Hey now, just another let down
Please just let me drown

Please just let me drown
Please just let me drown

Don't save me from myself
Please just let me drown
Don't save me from myself
Please just let me drown

Hey now, what you gonna say now?
You're coming through but you always got me let down
What can I say when you're in my brain now?
Can you complain when you got me in a meltdown?
And I swear I feel like drowning
Yeah, I swear I feel so down
Hey now, just another let down
Please just let me drown

(Please just let me drown)
Please just let me drown
(Please just let me drown)
Please just let me drown
