

You'll Come Home Again

Maximilian Hecker

Leave my heart into your sorrow
Where to go and where to follow
I belong there
Where to know is »When«

So my love, I'll leave you down thereunder
To my heart and to my sorrow
Where the angels fly
That I will never know

And you'll come home again
You'll come home again
You'll come home again

So the silence of my heart of golden
Where to go and where to follow
I belong there
Oh, forever you

So the silence of my heart is endless
To my heart and to my sorrow
Leave the angels, fly!
And you will lose my mind
